4 Entitlement / Benefits

4.1 Class credits

At the beginning of your 12 week membership, you will be issued with class credit for the 12 weeks upfront. The number of credits added in each 12 week cycle depends on your membership level and is outlined in Table 1. Your payment will be deducted via three instalments at four-weekly intervals. If you have not used the class credits at that time, they will expire. If you use class credits that have been issued but not paid for, you will be charged for those credits.

4.2 Duration of valid class credits

We do encourage you to attend the same class each week, but you can use those class credits to attend any class on our schedule, as long as you have been approved to attend that class based on your level of experience and the appropriate age stream.

You have 12 weeks to use your class credits. Class credits that are unused at the end of 12 will expire.

If you have booked a class and cannot attend, you must cancel your class within our booking timeframes of one hour before the class commences, if you are not attending. If you do not cancel your booking within that timeframe, the class will no longer be available for you to use.

If a class is cancelled by Dragonfly Dance, you can use the unused class credit to attend another class within your current payment cycle. As there are many classes to choose from on our timetable, you will not receive a refund if a class is cancelled by Dragonfly Dance, as you will have plenty of opportunity to make up the class.

4.3 Discounts

As a member, you are receiving a discounted class fee compared to the casual class fee. The discount is provided to members because they have made a commitment to pay for their place in a class and the high quality customer service that they receive. We aim to make our membership flexible, in recognition that adults lead busy lives and cannot always attend the same class each week. For this reason, you are able to make up missed classes, however, you do not NEED to make up missed classes. As you are paying for your place in the class, rather than actually attending, you are not losing money if you don't use all your class credits.

5 Changes to membership

5.1 Notice period for changes to your membership

Please provide 14 days' notice to make changes to your membership, such as to cancel, hold, upgrade or downgrade.

5.2 Cancellation of membership

If you aren't able to continue classes, you are able to cancel your membership by filling in our online cancellation form available at <https://bit.ly/dragonfly-cancellation>

The cancellation form must be completed by you at least 14 days before your next payment is due. You will not receive a refund for your most recent payment, even if you haven't used all your classes, or if you have not provided 14 days' notice.

When you cancel your membership, you will be able to use the class credits paid for in your previous instalment up until the date that your next payment was due. All unused classes will expire after the date that your next payment would have been due.

5.3 Downgrading or upgrading membership

If you find that your circumstances change, and you want to change to a different membership plan, you can.

If switching to a lower price membership plan you will not receive a refund for your most recent payment, even if you haven't used all your classes.

You can upgrade to a higher price membership plan at any time without a set notice period.

If you choose to downgrade or upgrade, it will mean cancelling your existing membership agreement and starting a new one. This means all unused class credits will be void as at the date you nominate to change your membership, and the minimum period of membership applies to the new membership before you can cancel or hold your membership. The option to upgrade or downgrade does not mean you can upgrade or downgrade for short periods of time.

5.4 Putting your membership on hold

If you are unable to attend classes for a period of 1 month or longer you can put your membership on hold by filling out our online hold request form available at <https://bit.ly/dragonfly-hold>

When your membership is on hold, any classes unused from the previous payment period will be available when your hold is finished. No payments will be deducted during the period of your hold.

Hold conditions:

- You cannot use any class credits during the period that your membership is on hold, but you can purchase casual classes if you want to attend classes while your membership is on hold.
- You are only able to put your membership on hold once within a 12 month period
- Minimum hold period is one (1) month
- Maximum hold period is six (6) months
- There is a fee of $10 to put your membership on hold
- It is your responsibility to be aware of when your membership is due to automatically reactivate.
- If you need to extend the hold, you will need to provide notice in writing seven (7) days before the membership is due to be re-activated
- If you haven't contacted us before your hold period is up, you will not be refunded for the latest membership payment

Please email <mailto:support@dragonflydance.com.au> to extend, or otherwise amend, a hold on your membership.

6 Bookings

You are able to book and cancel classes through the Zen Planner mobile app (downloadable from the App Store or Google Play), online booking system (accessible through our website).

If you need to cancel and reschedule a class, you can do this through the online booking system, or mobile app.

You are able to make or cancel a booking up to one hour before the class is due to start.

Please note, if you cancel the class at least an hour before it starts, you'll be able to use the credit to attend any of our classes. You won't be able to do so if you don't cancel it.

7 Changes to Membership Terms & Conditions

You will be advised in writing (via email) if there are any variations to the membership terms and conditions and given an explanation for why they are being changed. Our terms and conditions are reviewed quarterly.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you are aware of any changes made to the terms and condition of membership, this includes ensuring you have whitelisted <mailto:support@dragonflydance.com.au> to ensure any emails we send about membership variations are not sent to your spam or junk folder and arrive in your inbox.
